

Agreement about use and archiving of video recording.

On this date, _____, _____ (hereafter called the interviewer) made a video interview with _____ (hereafter called the narrator).

The recording was a part of Memoar's project "Migrasjon.Memoar.no", where the purpose was to gather oral source material about migration and integration on the West Coast (Vestlandet) in recent times (ca 1970 until today).

Declaration of consent:

I agree to the recording being made, and that Memoar afterwards writes a short text and a list of keywords which gives an overview (documents) what the interview is about. I will get access to both of these.

I agree that Memoar can deliver the recording together with the list of keywords to the Bergen City Archives (Bergen Byarkiv) or/and other public archives, and that it can be made generally available to the public.

I agree that Memoar can make a published version of the recording, and in the event that Memoar considers statements to be in conflict with acceptable press behavior, ethics or Norwegian law, they will be deleted.

I agree that the published version can be placed on the Internet with a password that only the narrator can reveal to others. When the narrator has given a written notification to Memoar, the password can be discarded.

I agree that when I no longer can give researchers, authors, film makers or others with appropriate purposes permission to use the interview or parts of it, public archives or Memoar can do it on my behalf.

In case there is something mentioned above that I don't agree to, I have crossed it out by hand.
